It is quite common for a supporting teacher to work with two students. Two ATU30 units can be linked together to make a dual system without the need for a mixer unit. Both students are able to hear each other, the teacher only needs one microphone and if working with a tape player, keyboard or computer the sound from this can be directly connected too.

Note: The usual indication that an ATU30 battery pack needs to be replaced is either that the ATU30 will not hold charge for very long or that the battery low indicator is still lit after charging. The life of a rechargeable battery pack in our experience is 2-3 years depending upon use. As it is quite easy for a technician to change a battery pack you may not need to return the ATU30 to Connevens. However, one word of advice, whilst in theory it is possible to repair the battery pack by replacing the particular 'dead' cell, our experience is that once one cell dies another will follow shortly thus we feel it is a false economy not to replace the entire pack.
